Homeless Michigan State Library Still Serving Citizens Well

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER, according to an ancient saying, and there are few today who would argue the point. One of the most important sources of knowledge in the state is supplying its citizens with knowledge and power. It has been functioning steadily and well, making its services available to any and all who inquire.

This is the Michigan State Library, homeless since 1949 when a fire destroyed the state office building where it was located.

Since that fire, nine years ago, library departments have been housed in various locations. It is one of the last services to be considered for "new" housing under government working under handicaps that have been largely overcome through sheer determination, the library staff continues to function. Its services are still available, and today it serves more people than ever.

Mrs. Loleta D. Fyan, state librarian, said the statewide use of the library has hit an all-time volume during the past year.

In raw figures covering a seven-year period, records show that Michigan residents borrowed 221,000 books during the past year, compared to 118,000 in 1951.

More than 45,000 books were loaned to libraries throughout the state under the "feeder" library network serving outlying rural areas.

Reference services, one of the least-known of the library's functions, handled 113,000 requests for information, compared to 48,000 in 1951.

This is the service that enables citizens to get detailed research on all subjects by dialing the telephone or writing a letter. It is used by high school and college debating teams, many students, teachers, officials, newspapermen and anyone about any fact.

The State Law Library, on the second floor of the Capitol, has also felt a pinch. It is a vital source of legal information for the legislature, state departments, the Supreme Court, and judges and lawyers throughout Michigan.

Lack of funds have forced a cut-back in library services because more requests came in than can be handled by the limited number of staff employees. The pinch is also felt in the library's Upper Peninsula branch at Escanaba. There, book loans are almost double the 1955 rate, and last year reached 33,000.

"The State library belongs to all residents of Michigan," said Mrs. Fyan.

"More than 75 per cent of our users are out-state residents," she said. The remaining 25 per cent include state employees and Michigan State University faculty and students.

INVESTIGATIONS have an effect on state agencies even if they are not immediate and dramatic. The Senate committee assigned to eliminate waste in state government has made both friends and enemies during its first five months of operation, and its leaders already are claiming results.

Senator L. Harvey Lodge, Dayton Plains Republican, assessed his committee's work when challenged at a recent hearing.

He said it saved $116,000 for the state by showing that the State Police could maintain their services without serious effects and still cut the budget by that sum. Lodge added that as the hearings started Gov. Williams reduced his staff of State Police aides by one man.

While there were no resounding orders to cut the use of state cars, Lodge said the system has been tightened up and fewer abuses are present because the committee put the subject in the spotlight.

Dollar savings have been made in the mental health system, Lodge said, by publicizing the existence of bakeries and land-renting rooms in state hospitals and a sanatorium for geriatrics in another.

Lodge said the responsibility for a $154,000 loss caused by a mistake in processing a highway bond issue has been fixed and that Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has changed the system.

There are still other savings, he said, which will result from generally tighter operations in the state agencies.

The committee will make its report to the 1959 legislature in January — confident that even if the report does not lead to changes in laws an "atmosphere of economy" will have been created, at least for a time.

"... We Need 'em Fast!"

THE SCENE IS the traffic department of any of the hundreds of manufacturing plants in Michigan. The time is 4:00 P. M. on any day of the week. The traffic manager is talking long distance to a supplier in another state about some parts needed for production.

"Send 'em by truck," he says, as he prepares to hang up, "we need 'em fast!"

He knows from experience that motor transport is the fastest link between shipping and receiving. He knows he can depend on it. In fact, he and thousands of his fellow traffic managers have been the men most responsible for the rapid growth of motor transport. Once they experienced the efficiency and speed of trucks, there was no satisfying them with anything else — and today their companies could not operate successfully without truck transport!

That's something for every wage earner in Michigan to think about.

Miss Elizabeth Ora Edsell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Edsell, Camp AuSable, Grayling, and Loyd Kerbs, Shattuck, Oklahoma, were married in an exchange of wedding vows at 10:30 a. m. on September 7th at the Camp Lodge, Camp AuSable, Grayling.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kerbs of Shattuck.

Elder Fred Bagvon, Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Seventh-day Adventist conference, Young People's department and Pathfinder clubs, and camp superintendent, officiated at the ceremony. The Michigan Seventh-day Adventist quartet, with Elder Roy Lemon and Mr. Bill Edsell, Detroit, sister-in-law, "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

A life size mural painted by Keith Morey, depicting Camp AuSable, the world's largest Seventh-day Adventist youth camp, was part of the decoration for the wedding.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a high neckline and wrist-point sleeves. She wore a fingertip veil and crown and carried a bouquet of white carnations and white roses.

Maid-of-honor was Carol M. Nelson of Berrien Springs, Mich. She wore a gown of ice blue tulle and white. Her cascade bouquet was of white gladioli and pom-pom mums. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Delores Cook, Wilson, Mich., and Miss Donna Edsell of Grayling, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Patricia Edsell, Detroit, sister-in-law. Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor. They carried cascade bouquets of blue carnations and pom-pom mums.

"Slaves Had Security" . . .

The following editorial is reprinted from the New Jersey, Idaho, Valley Sentinel:

"We used to put a pretty high price on freedom in this country. As the settlers headed west for the privations and hardships of months of crawling, dusty travel, all they asked of government was to keep foreigners out of their hair while they fought off the Indians, starvation and any other obstacle to their freedom to make and build a life in a new land.

"Today we seem to be willing to piddle away this freedom for 'security', security from hunger, want and hardship guaranteed by government.

"We forget that the plantation slaves of the south and all these things we prize so highly today as long as they had kind, benevolent masters. The only price they paid for it was their freedom.

"We too, can have complete security at the same price but who can guarantee that our masters will always be kind and benevolent?"

Weak Alibi . . .

No one in his right mind would minimize the importance and the awesome implications of the "cold war."
Its long shadow is cast across the entire world. But, it is clear that the "cold war" has been used as a handy alibi
by the big spenders in and out of the government.

As Taxpayer's Dollar puts it, "It has been customary though not accurate, for supporters of increased federal spending to lay the chief blame at the door of the 'cold war.' It has even been said that the size of this country's budget is dictated from Moscow." The figures, however, tell a very different sort of story. In the period since the Korean conflict, military and other national security spending has held to relatively constant levels. In other words, percentage variations in these appropriations from year to year have been comparatively small.

On the other hand, in the same period, appropriations for non-defense spending have increased nearly 50 percent—from $22.5 billion in 1955 to an estimated $32.4 billion for 1959. Thus, the increases in non-defense spending are largely responsible for an anticipated deficit of more than $12 billion during this fiscal year.

Frills and extravagances, not defense, have brought on the appalling present budget situation, for which our own lawmakers have no good alibi.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

November 21, 1935

The Bakery, now operated by Peter Lovely, is open and doing business. Last Saturday, to mark the event, tea cakes and cookies
were served visiting ladies and it was a continued round of reception for two solid hours. The store is managed by Miss Veronica Lovely, daughter of the proprietor, and on that day she was assisted by Misses Georgiana Olson and Helen May. Floyd Lovely, a nephew of the proprietor, is the baker. Peter Lovely himself looks after the making of the pies,
cakes, rolls, doughnuts, cookies
etc., which is an assurance of their goodness.

Grey skies with no snow and mild weather greeted deer hunters for the opening of the season last Friday and has continued such so far. Register of Deeds Ronnew Hanson seems to have been the first local hunter to fill his license. He was out on the opening morning at 7 o'clock and back home by nine with his buck. Don Peterson, 17 years old, is proud of shooting his first deer and he bagged it on the first day—a four pronger. And yesterday his dad, Hans L. Peterson, superintendent of Grayling Fish Hatchery, filled his license with an 8-point buck.
Another lucky nimrod was Jimmy Weiss, a sophomore at Grayling High. What nimrods who have filled their licenses include Gale Clise, Earl Koivuno, Elgin Ben-
ware, George Burke, Dennis Love-

Miss Dorothy Roberts was hos-

though only eight members were present everyone had a very nice son Danny. Philip Havens is enployed by the General Electric Co.

and is stationed in Shanghai, China,
where he looks after the Com-

Danny was born in Shanghai but his parents saw to it that he was registered as an American.

The young man, Daniel Frederick, at-international settlement. Philip says the literacy of the inhabitants of China, especially those outside of the large cities, is very low. They are a peaceful race and only wish to be left alone.

The country is largely agricul-

Whitey
"Auto" Not Sell Now

Folks thought it was a big joke when Whitey Fisher—
who owns a chicken farm up on Murphy Hill—bought an old taxicab.
"Bought it mainly to haul eggs," Whitey told me. "Take out the rear seat and there's as much room as a truck. Put it back, and I can take all the kids on the Hill to school."
"In warm weather," he continued, "I can slide back the roof and get sunshine. And when I go hunting, I'll wind up the glass partition and the dogs
can't lick the back of my neck!"

From where I sit, things aren't always what they are at first glance. "More than meets the eye" is often true whether you're talking about Whitey's
"cab," or a new neighbor down the street. Give things a chance to be proved... give every man a chance to be heard. Sit down over a glass of beer or buttermilk and get to know each other. It's the American way...
a road of "tolerance" we all ought to ride on.

SILENCE ISN'T GOLDEN

It takes a certain amount of horn-blowing to sell a town, and if it seems as though one day long ago somebody put away the horn and it has been forgotten, let's get it out and join the parade. Otherwise, let's stand aside and watch the parade go by.

If a town wants new industry it must talk up its advantages so industry can hear. Towns too must sell if they are to stay in business, and no town ever sold itself sitting silently by the side of the road.

New industry means more work for people of the community, more dollars in circulation all over the town, more prosperity for you and your neighbors.
Your town has a selling message; help make it heard.

If your town is to attract industry, it needs every citizen as a salesman, and in this business there's no such thing as silent selling.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

Michigan drivers
go 1st class!

For the new heavy-duty highways
that count most...
the choice is modern CONCRETE!

On important Michigan highways already completed . . . on others now building
. . . on more still coming . . . concrete means tax savings and real dollar value

When you see a new concrete road—congratulate yourself on getting the best highway money can buy.

Michigan's newest concrete roads will last 50 years and more.
Even the older ones outlasted other pavements 2 to 1.

Upkeep will run as much as 60% less than for asphalt! Remember, even on the new Interstate System, where Uncle Sam pays 90% of the price of the highway, Michigan pays for the upkeep—every red cent of it. With concrete the initial cost isn't just a down payment.

Don't forget that gliding smooth ride you get on modern concrete. And the extra safety, too. Mighty reassuring—that grainy, skid-resisting surface—when you have to stop in a hurry. At night, light-reflecting concrete lets you see—doesn't kill light the way black pavement does.

These are just some of the reasons why concrete's the choice for Michigan's first class highways—especially for the new Interstate System.

Whom It May Concern:

To gain a clear and better understanding of the differences between the "Salt Lake" and "Mormon Church," one needs to have an open mind and study with an open mind and desire to be able to understand the reasons for the "Reorganization" of the church. We wish to thank each and every one for the success of our first night at the Legion Hall. We have added greatly to our financial funds, both for the church and the League. Last week's study lesson in the form of a story was drawn to Christ through the lives of others. This week's lesson will be to plan their recreation for the 24th of December. From their service in the army during the fish fry last Sunday night, Norval Stephan, newly ordained Priest, explained from scripture and history how the people and the Book of Mormon are as two sticks when, according to Ezekiel 37: 1-22, they shall become one in God's hand. The choir is happy to have three new members: Mrs. Clarence Holcomb and her two daughters, Jean and Darlene. This Thursday the church members have their family night which will be a harvest supper at the Grange Hall, 6 p. m. Chicken and all the trimmings. Friday night the Priesthood and their wives from all the R.L.D.S. churches of the northern district will be meeting in the Gaylord church for class work. The ladies will have Mrs. Allen McNeil, of Alpena, District Women's Leader, for their instructor. Elder and Mrs. Roy Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Norval Stephan and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Babbitt will be attending from the Graying Church. The Graying branch wishes to announce that the speaker for Sunday, November 23, both morning and evening, will be Bishop Louis E. Landsberg from Lansing, Michigan. Bishop Landsberg will show colored slides at the evening service. These colored slides were taken during the last great General Conference, held during October, at Church Headquarters, Independence, Mo. Anyone wishing to know more about "The Church of Jesus Christ," are welcome to attend these, or any of our services. The choir meets each Wednesday night at the church at 8:45. Fellowship service at 8. November 26 will be a "Thanksgiving Worship" at the church. We have much to be thankful for. Starting Sunday evening, November 30th, the different departments will be presenting a program leading up to Christmas. The Department of Women will have the first one, titled, "Lighting the Tree and Presenting our Gifts of Stanzas." Mrs. Babbitt, publicity.

EASY DOES IT
IF YOU want more wear out of rubber gloves, use the new rubber gloves which will work where ordinary tapes do not.
No need to iron dories if you starch them and stretch flat against a glass or other surface which is not harmed by water. Let the dories remain until thoroughly dry.
When throw rugs loose their sizing, use full strength starch brushed on their backs with a stiff brush. Let dry thoroughly before using.
When plastic drapes become yellow wash in a solution of powdered bleach and soap to whiten them.
Pastry cloths or waxed paper which you use for rolling dough will not slip or slide if the table is dampened before placing on the pastry cloth.
Make certain laundry water is softened so you get the most out of soap and the cleaning action of your machine. If water is not softened in the tank add some powdered softener to it, using manufacturers' directions.
If you have a loose board in the floor that creaks, take a bar of soap and fill in the crack between the boards with it. Renew it until you can get the floor refinished, and the squeak will stop.

Our sincere apologies to Mrs. Emery Bebow for forgetting to list her as co-chairman of the dining room committee of the W. S. C. S. harvest dinner. This one was on us, completely. We had the information and overlooked it. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Loper of Traverse City were Sunday guests of his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Loper, a week ago.

Coming soon at the Rialto Theatre — "Bridge On The River Kwai."

Dr. Leonard Allison and son Newton hunted deer at Vanderbilt over the weekend, leaving Friday night and returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Bertha Moore of Flint is spending the winter with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Houle and family.

Our apologies to Mrs. Warren Hatfield, for whom the pink and blue shower was held at Mrs. Albert Knibbs' home recently. We thought "Helen Stephen" and wrote "Mrs. Warren Stephen."

John Arthur, three-week-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman, was baptised Sunday, November 16, at St. Mary's church. His godparents were Mrs. Hoffman's sister, Mrs. William Barrus, for whom her mother, Mrs. Grover Cox stood proxy, and brother, Pat Cox. There was a family dinner at the Hoffman home afterwards to celebrate.

Perry Rowland of Vassar is spending the first week of deer season with his brother and family, the Harvey Rowlands.

Make Known Local Benefits

Every community has a "selling message," advantages a town has to offer cannot be appreciated by industries seeking new sites unless they are made known. This is emphasized in an industrial development advertisement, carry the caption "Silence isn't Golden," which appears today in The Crawford County Avalanche.

A community which seeks to attract industry needs the assistance of every resident and every organization to give its message wide circulation.

How this message can be carried to industry is illustrated by one Western Michigan community where a "chemical empire" has been built because one man decided to be a salesman for his town. Knowing that an eastern company was seeking a Michigan site, this man took soundings, obtained samples and provided the company with information he had obtained. The company was sufficiently impressed to give the area further study and make its own tests. The result was a multi-million dollar installation in an area which had not received attention originally.

That is only a part of the story. Allied industries followed and the original investment of the first company has been multiplied many times because of its expansion beyond the first plans and the location of the other industries.

The result has been added employment, school additions, expansion of the residential section and a general building up of the area.

Obtaining a new, large industry for a community is an exception. To most towns, a small industry is just as important and more likely to be attracted. But, once it is there and providing employment for local residents, it has a growth potential that may add many more workers as the years go by.

Industry is too small to deserve attention of towns engaged in an industrial development program. Several smaller manufacturers could provide greater diversification which might have a combined potential equal to a single large industry.

The fact there is no such thing as a "silent sell" is stressed in the latest of a series of industrial development advertisements appearing this week in The Avalanche and 300 other Michigan newspapers in a campaign sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

Four big reasons why

FORD

IS OUTSELLING ALL OTHER '59 CARS

AT THE BRUSSELS WORLD'S FAIR, the '59 Fords were awarded the Gold Medal for handsome new styling elegance by the Comité Français de l'Elegance.

ANYONE CAN FIT IN A FORD: Our cars are built for people—full-size people who want space to stretch out. And all passengers ride in deep-cushion comfort.

YOU'LL BE THANKFUL EVERY TANKFUL if you buy the new Ford, for you'll save up to a dollar a tankful with new engines that run superbly on regular gas.

THE FAMOUS FORD LOW PRICES have already made a hit, because only in Fords will you find value and beauty coming together at down-to-earth prices!

The world's best-selling car is the car with Thunderbird elegance

In the greatest styling decision of the year, the American public has already shown a clear preference for the new Fords. Ford sales are way ahead of all competition. Why? One reason is the classic simplicity of their Thunderbird-inspired design—clean, crisp lines that are pure automobile! And Fords are built for people—to sit in, to drive, to ride in—with comfort.

The car in hottest demand across the land has greater roominess and comfort

Thousands of customers have bought the new Ford over all competition for another compelling reason—it's a true six-passenger car. (The only four-passenger car we recommend is the Thunderbird!) All six Ford passengers get plenty of every kind of room—from leg and head to elbow and hip. Rear seat passengers don't feel like they're riding with their feet in a bucket!

The No. 1 car in sales saves money on gas, on oil, on maintenance bills

A new Ford will save you up to 5¢ a gallon on gas. That's because both standard engines—Six or Thunderbird V-8—thrive on regular gas. And Ford saves on oil, too, with a Full-Flow Oil Filter as standard equipment. Drive 4000 miles between oil changes! And you can forget about waxing your car. Ford's Diamond Lustre Finish stays gleaming bright without waxing—ever!

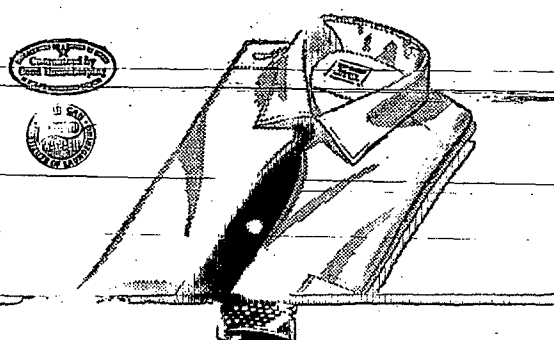

The most popular American car is priced as much as $102.75 lower

Ford costs you less right down the line than the competition. Compare price tags and you'll see that the manufacturer's suggested retail price of a Ford, equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission, is as much as $102.75 less than the major competition! And on an air-conditioned car, you can save up to $219.85. So compare and save on a 1959 Ford!
